

Figure 5. Wind stress magnitude at 2 points in the Korea Strait (see Figure 1 for positions) indicate events during May and July/August that correlate with the inertial oscillation amplitude. However, the increased events of the same amplitude during winter do not appear to generate inertial oscillations (Figure 6).